QUALCOMM INNOVATION FELLOWSHIP KOREA 2020 OFFICIAL RULES

1. To Enter. The Qualcomm Innovation Fellowship Korea (the "Program") is a qualified paper competition program and open to Master or PhD students ("Applicants") at specific universities in South Korea.

2. Sponsor. The Program is sponsored by Qualcomm Technologies, Inc. headquartered at 5775 Morehouse Drive, San Diego, CA 92121 ("Sponsor").

3. Application Process. Each Applicant must satisfy the below conditions:

- a. Each Applicant must be a full-time student enrolled in a Master or PhD program for the entire 2020 - 2021 academic year.
- b. Applicant must be the 1st author of applied paper to the program.
- c. If Applicant's paper is co-authored (e.g., two 1st authors) both authors must be listed on application.
- d. Applicant must submit required materials by specified deadline as announced by Program.
- e. Applicant must fully complete the registration materials specified, but not limited to, a paper or online form (collectively, the "Application"). No other method of registration will be accepted.
- f. Applicant(s) paper must be submitted in English.

4. Warranty. Each applicant warrants that applied paper, and presentation, if applicable, will not violate or infringe the rights, including, without limitation, copyrights, trademark rights or rights of publicity/privacy, of any third party, and that all pre-published material used in preparation of the paper and/or presentation is properly cited.

5. Intellectual Property. Preparation of the Application and/or presentation may produce ideas that are the intellectual property ("IP") of the applicant and/or their papers. Participation in the Program may require disclosure of these ideas to persons who are not under a duty to maintain confidentiality (including Sponsor(s) and the judges). Sponsor reserves the right, but is not obligated, to publish information about the winning Applications and presentations on its website or in any other media. If any applicants are concerned about confidentiality or the protection of IP, they are urged to consider these issues with qualified advisors to make an informed decision before applying. Any IP generated by the applicants in the preparation of their Applications and presentations will be retained by the applicant.

Each applicant acknowledges that Sponsor has a large research and development program with many projects currently in active development or on roadmaps. Each applicant further acknowledges that Sponsor may already be conducting, or may in the future conduct, research that is similar to the research described in an application and/or presentation, and that Sponsor's right or ability to sell, license, use, exploit, develop or otherwise deal anywhere in any product, technology or service of any kind including those which may be similar to any product, technology or service described in an Application or presentation shall not be limited or restricted in any way related to and/or resulting from the Program and/or applicant's participation in the Program.

6. Materials; Transmission. Application and presentation materials will not be returned. Sponsor is not responsible for, including without limitation, technical, hardware or software malfunctions, lost or unavailable network connections or failed, incorrect, inaccurate, illegible, incomplete, garbled, lost, misdirected, intercepted, late, or delayed applications, or applications or other communications not otherwise received by Sponsor, or other technical problems related to applications or the website. Sponsor, in its sole discretion, reserves the right to disqualify any applicant who tampers with the entry process, or who otherwise violates these rules.

7. Selection, Notification and Finalist. Some applicants will be selected as Program finalists ("Finalists") through paper review. All Finalists will be invited to a group event at a designated Sponsor location during which each applicant will make a presentation and poster session of the applied paper in their application to a judging panel. Finalists may be asked by the judging panel to provide further clarification of points raised during their presentation and poster session. The date and location will be announced by Sponsor.

8. Selection and Notification of Winners. All Applications, presentations and poster session will be ranked by a panel of experts consisting of Sponsor researchers whose decisions are final on all matters relating to the applicants.

Winners will be announced on the website following the Finalists' presentations and poster session and notified by email sent to the email addresses specified on each winner's application.

The date and location of an awards ceremony will be announced later.

9. Program Awards. Cash awards of 4,000,000 KRW per selected paper will be awarded to his or her affiliated university. Applicant should follow his or her university scholarship policy when receiving award from the university. Please note there may be tax incurred when the scholarship is disbursed to the winner for which the winner will be solely responsible.

10. General Conditions. Sponsor has the right to modify or cancel this competition at its sole discretion. Sponsor is not responsible for any policies, rules, or actions of the universities, conference, journal or any organization that may prevent any student from entering, participating in and/or being selected at any stage of the Program.

By applying to the Program, each Applicant agrees: (i) to be bound by these rules and the decisions of the judges, (ii) to be contacted by Sponsor by telephone, mail or email regarding the Program, (iii) that personal data submitted, including name, e-mail address, mobile phone number, professor, degree course, degree expected year or any other data provided by the applicant that can be used to identify or locate a person ("Personal Information"), may be collected, processed, stored and otherwise used by Sponsor for the purposes of conducting and/or administering the Program and (iv) that the Personal Information may be transmitted, processed, disclosed and/or stored by Sponsor and its affiliates and subcontractors. All Personal Information that is collected from the Applicants is subject to Qualcomm's privacy policy at <https://www.qualcomm.com/site/privacy>.

All applicable federal, state and local laws and regulations apply. The Program is governed by the laws of South Korea. All matters or disputes arising or related to these terms shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of courts located in South Korea.

All applicants should confirm their acceptance of these rules.
If applicants do not accept any of the terms of the rules contained herein, they should not submit an Application.

By signing below, I accept and agree to abide by the rules for participation in the Qualcomm Innovation Fellowship Korea 2020

If there are multiple applicants (such as co-1st author of applied paper), please provide information for each.

Qualcomm is committed to the highest standards of ethical conduct and abides by all applicable anti-corruption laws in countries where we conduct business. As part of our continual effort to maintain this commitment, we are collecting the following information to ensure compliance with the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA)*, and the Korea Anti-Graft Act. Please be assured that the information is for internal use only.

1. Are you employed by a State-Owned or Controlled (Government) enterprise or Public International Organization (e.g. government policy boards, certain standards bodies, etc.)? If so, please provide the name of your employer and your professional title at the Company:
 - For Students – enter School Name and job title if employed by a school or enter “N/A” if not employed

2. Are you being referred to this program by, or are you related to a “foreign official”? If so, please provide the details of your relationship (mother, father, brother, etc....) with the foreign official, the government agency/state-owned entity that the foreign official is employed by, and professional title:
 - Everyone – specify answer. If YES, please provide details

I agree, to the best of my knowledge, my responses to the above questions are correct.

(i) Yes or No:

(ii) Name (please print):

(iii) Date:

(iv) Signature:

* The “FCPA” is a United States federal law which (1) makes it illegal to provide anything of value, directly or indirectly, to a foreign official for the purpose of securing an improper advantage; and (2) requires the Company to have accurate books and records and effective internal accounting controls. Qualcomm strictly complies with the FCPA and all other applicable Anti-Corruption laws in countries where we conduct business.

* Foreign Official definition under FCPA and Korea Anti-Graft Act:

- Under FCPA, “Foreign Official” is defined as an officer, employee or agent of the Government, an employee of a state owned or controlled entity (“State Owned Entity”), or an officer or employee of a Public International Organization (i.e. International Telecommunications Union, World Intellectual Property Organization, United Nations). A State-Owned Entity includes public or national universities.
- Under Korea Anti-Graft Act “Public Official” is defined as above and include employees of any private or public schools or media companies.
